

THEMIS RULES

Rules of EJTN THEMIS Competition

I. Introduction

Project Purpose: The main aim of the Themis Competition is to bring together future magistrates from different European countries at a time when they are undergoing entry level training to enable them to share common values and to exchange new experiences/discuss new perspectives in areas of common interest.

The Project beneficiaries are trainees from all training institutions and schools who are members of EJTN or observers.

The Project Leader is the European Judicial Training Network.

Relevance: This competition will constitute one of EJTN main activities specifically addressed to initial judicial training.

The Project aims to:

- Promote a forum of discussion on European and International Law subjects.
- Promote exchanges of experiences between the participants.
- Obtain and spread interesting and useful theses on the chosen subjects.
- Encourage the development of the critical thinking and communication skills.
- Promote and foster relationships among participants from across the European judiciaries represented in the competition

II. History and past achievements

The event was created, financed and run from 2006 to 2009 by the Portuguese Centre from the Judiciary Studies (CEJ) and the National Institute of Magistracy of Romania (NIM). In 2010, the Competition became EJTN activity and steps were then taken to adapt and enlarge its format in order to recognize its importance in cross-border training in European Law.

III. Background description

The THEMIS Competition comprises five different stages: four semi-finals and a Grand Final.

Each semi-final and the final cover different topics:

- a) Semi-Final A: EU and European Criminal Procedure
- b) Semi-Final B: EU and European Family law
- c) Semi-Final C: EU and European Civil procedure
- d) Semi-Final D: Judicial Ethics and Professional Conduct
- e) Grand Final: Access to Justice

An indication of the legal instruments that may apply both to the common legal question and the debates of the Grand Final will be provided to the participants no later two weeks prior to the start of the event.

IV. Participant

“A participant” is defined as a team consisting of three persons.
Each participant can be accompanied by one teacher/tutor.

Team members must be judicial trainees.

A person is considered a judicial trainee if he or she is so regarded under the national law and if he/she is not attending initial training activities for more than two years. The training institution to which the trainee belongs shall certify his/her status, according to the above, at the moment of registration.

Any country where such a concept of “trainee” does not exist may participate with a team composed of judges and/or public prosecutors who, at the date of registration, are in their first year of service, such year commencing with the date when they first took up their appointment as a judge or public prosecutor irrespective of whether or not they are in such employment at the date of registration.

It is not allowed to be a member of a team in THEMIS more than once.

The participants will prepare the written paper/report and the oral presentation independently. The role of the teacher/tutor consists only of giving advice and assistance.

English is the official language of the competition. No translation or interpretation is provided or permitted.

The deadline for registration of teams is the first Monday of March of each year.

1 - Process of team registration:

1.a) Fully complete the registration form published on the EJTN website - THEMIS section. An incomplete registration form will not be accepted as a valid entry.

1.b) In order to register the team, each Institution must certify the nomination by appending to the application form the Institution's stamp.

The form should be dated and signed by an authorised signatory from the Institution and the completed form sent to the address shown on the website.

1.c) If an Institution wishes to submit more than one team in the competition (whether in the same or other semi-final) an application complying with paragraph above should be sent in respect of each team.

2 - Applications will be registered according to the date they are received by the EJTN Secretariat.

The EJTN Secretariat will send to all applicants an acknowledgment of receipt as soon as possible, whether or not the application is accepted. A table listing all applications will be published on the EJTN website.

A final table of all registered teams will be published on the EJTN website confirming officially the registration of teams of all teams in each semi-final.

3 – In principle, the maximum number of teams to take part in each semi-final is eleven (11).

4 - Each Institution has the right to register a team in any of the semi-finals. Registrations are processed in order of their arrival at EJTN offices in Brussels, and initially are limited to one team per semi-final. Institutions wishing to enter more than one team per semi-final are strongly recommended to nominate a second team that will be part of a reserve list. If, after the deadline for registration the quorum of 11 teams in the semi-finals is not reached, the EJTN Secretariat will use the reserve list, and select a second team per country in the order of registration were originally received.

5 - When registering more than one team for the same semi-final, Institutions should clearly indicate an order of priority between these. It is strongly recommended that countries with more than one educational institution consult with each other in order to avoid lodging several entries for the same semi-final.

6 - If by the deadline of registration, 11 teams have been accepted for a semi-final, but places remain in others/another, EJTN reserves the right to contact Institutions, which have applied to register teams, but which remain unallocated, to offer them the opportunity of filling the vacant places. Teams will be given 48 hours within which to accept or to reject the offer of participation.

7 - Subject to the above, no more than a single team per country may participate in a given semi-final if there are 11 applicants from different Institutions whose applications are accepted.

8 - Each participating institution may nominate one teacher/tutor per team to be present at the event. For the avoidance of doubt, such a teacher/tutor shall not be paid any remuneration by EJTN.

V. Semi-finals

Each semi-final consists of three stages: a written paper, an oral presentation of the paper and a discussion with the Jury.

The Written Paper

Each participant in any of the semi-finals must present a written text on any subject related to the topic of the relevant semi-final.

The deadlines to submit these papers is 4 weeks before the first day of a semi-final. If the team does not send the written paper on time the jury members will consider consequences of such delay when assessing and ranking the team. The written paper has to be original and will be screened for plagiarism and auto plagiarism.

Papers must not exceed 20 pages in Word format, Times New Roman, size 12, line spacing 1.5. (For the avoidance of doubt, all written references, such as summaries, side comments, annexes, bibliography or endnotes shall be included in those 20 pages). A cover page bearing, on one side only, information relating to the title of the paper, the identity of the presenting team and any graphics desired to illustrate the cover is not considered as being included in the above limitation. Papers should be written in English and contain new ideas, critical appreciations or proposals regarding the subject of the concerned semi-final.

By submitting their papers, the authors give authorization to EJTN to further use it and disseminate it.

The written papers of the each semi-final selected by the jury members will be published in the THEMIS Annual Journal that will be issued each year after the completion of all semi-finals.

The Oral Presentation

Each participating team will have a maximum of thirty minutes to make an oral presentation of its paper. This presentation shall involve all team members (but not the teacher/tutor). Audio-visual technology may be used as an additional tool to support, but not to substitute the oral presentation.

Presentations will follow the order resulting from a draw that will take place at EJTN premises and that will be conducted by the EJTN Secretary General.

Following each of the oral presentations, one team will be asked to address questions to the presenting team.

This team will also be selected by a draw taking place at the end of each oral presentation. Neither a team of the same nationality as the presenting team nor one that has already been drawn on a previous similar procedure will be entered into any new daily draw.

All competing teams must be present during the oral presentations and the discussions with the Jury.

The maximum number of questions that can be addressed by that team will be three, one per member of the team.

Trainees of the host country have the opportunity and are encouraged to observe the Competition.

The Discussion with the Jury

Immediately after the presentation and the answers to the questions, the Jury will conduct a discussion with the presenting team about the content of the paper. This oral presentation shall not exceed 45 minutes. All team members (but not the teacher/tutor) shall take a broadly equal part in the discussion. The Jury will pay special attention to the participation of each team member.

In order to ensure equality between the teams and to make sure that they comply with the time limit set up for the oral presentation and the discussion with the Jury, a visible clock with a countdown should be displayed.

The Jury will assess participants' performance according to the following criteria, where appropriate: (a) quality; (b) originality, (c) reference to the relevant case law of the European Court of Justice and European Court of Human Rights; (d) in-depth analysis of the latest European debates on both ethics and EU Law; and, (e) anticipation of future solutions.

The jury may grant every participant a maximum of 100 points, to be shared as follows:
Written Paper: 30 points,
Oral Presentation: 30 points,
Discussion: 40 points.

VI. Finals

The final consists of two stages: a written report on a common legal question and an oral debate with another team in front of the Jury.

The final of Themis Competition will last three days and a half.

Written report

Each team will be asked to prepare a written report on a legal practical question that will be given to them, by the Jury, immediately after the opening Ceremony of the Grand Final on the morning of the first day.

The teams will have the remainder of the first day to prepare their written report. This written report must not exceed 10 pages in Word format, Times New Roman, size 12, line spacing 1.5. It must be written in English. For the avoidance of doubt, all written references such as summaries, side comments, annexes, bibliography or endnotes shall be included in those 10 pages. A cover page may be added in addition to the above limit.

The legal practical question will be the same for the eight competing teams and will be related to the following topic: “Access to Justice”.

The topic Access to Justice shall cover one or more of the following issues:

- a fair and public hearing before an independent and impartial tribunal (including the right to access to a court, the scope of the right to a fair and public hearing, and alternative paths to justice);
- legal aid; the right to be advised, defended and represented (including the quality of legal assistance, the right to adequate time and facilities to prepare one’s defence, and the right to waive representation);
- the right to an effective remedy (including its substantive and institutional requirements);
- limitations on access to justice: the length of proceedings (including criteria for determining the length’s reasonableness);
- access to justice by vulnerable people: persons with disabilities, victims of crime, minors.

This written report must be finished and delivered to EJTJN’s representative by 6 pm on the competition first day.

The Presentations

Each team will be required to take part in an oral debate with another participating team. Each of the two participating teams will be asked to take the opposing stance in relation to a case study or topic which will be provided to them two weeks before the Final. Each pair of teams will debate a different case.

These presentations will take place in front of the Jury.

Audio-visual technology may be used as an additional tool to support, but not to substitute the oral presentation.

All competing teams must be present during the oral presentations and the discussions with the Jury.

The teams will be paired using a random draw conducted by the Secretary General of EJTN in advance of the Finals.

The inverse of the alphabetical order of the English names of the countries involved will define the team starting each presentation.

The full time available for each pair of finalists is 100 minutes. The following order shall be respected.

First team's presentation (maximum of 20 minutes)

Second team's presentation (maximum of 20 minutes)

The second team's answers two questions asked by the first team (5 minutes)

The First team answers two questions asked by the second team (5 minutes)

First team's closing arguments (10 minutes)

Second team's closing arguments (10 minutes)

Jury's discussion with the teams (around 30 minutes)

The Jury will assess participants' overall performance on the written report and the debate according to the following criteria, where appropriate:

(a) Quality

(b) Originality;

(c) Reference to the relevant case law of the European Court of Justice and European Court of Human Rights;

(d) In-depth analysis of European standards on both ethics and EU Law;

(e) Anticipation of future solutions;

If for any reasons, one of the teams selected for the Final cannot participate, or if two or more members of a team withdraw, automatically, the team in third place in the relevant semi-final will have the opportunity to take part in the Grand Final.

The Jury of the Grand Final will declare one of the competing teams as THEMIS winner and will award it a prize comprising a study visit organized by EJTN. The study visit is financed by the EJTN.
